CURIOUS RELIC IS DUG UP BY NUGGET ANOTHER MINING STRIKE REPORTED

It's an old adage that we learn something new every day. Sometimes we learn things that are new to us but probably not to those more seasoned in life's mysteries, but we must confess, along with a lot of other soft-rock miners, that we never had any suspicion that they used to bombard the underground stopes with cannon and steel projectiles.

In the Nugget window may be seen a rust covered, round nosed steel projectile 3½ inches in length, 2½ inches caliber and weighing 3½ pounds. It was taken from the Idaho mine in clearing out the old 400 level in 1919, and loaned to the Nugget by Dominick Mezzala, who found it and was as much mystified as anyone at the time.

A number of these were found in the debris at that time, according to Mr. Mezzala, and those engaged in the work were puzzled at to how such warlike material could happen to be reposing 400 feet below the surface.

So the Nugget man hied himself to Grass Valley in order to get further details. To C. A. Brockington we first went, for he has spent all his life around the mines of Grass Valley and we believed that if anyone knew anything about underground artillery Charley would, and we were not disappointed. He informed us that he had seen the guns and knew about their being used, but personally had never fired anything larger than a 44, although he still takes a shot whenever the accasion demands.

For a better understanding he referred us to Mr. Thomas Plummer, who actually worked at the Idaho when these guns were in use. From Mr. Plummer, who has retired and lives on Winchester Hill, we learned the reason for this unique method of freeing the chutes of clogged broken ore.

The Idaho vein, as we all know, is almost vertical and the serpentine footwall had a most annoying habit of swelling badly when exposed to the air, in this way often blocking the free running of the loose ore in the chutes, which ran from level to level.

It would have been extremely hazardous for anyone to climb up these steep chutes to attempt to free or remove any obstruction, so these cannons, which were about four feet in length and weighed in the neighborhood of 250 pounds were brought into play. They were charged with black powder, the projectle was rammed home, the gun trained on the offending obstruction and fired by means of a time fuse.

These guns were in use at both the Idaho and the Eureka mines from about 1872 to 1879 on the 700 level and above. As these were the only steep veins being worked in the district at that time, conditions were met that were not duplicated on the flatter veins and that is the reason that cannon were not generally used.

Cars were not loaded from chutes as they are at present, but the ore issued from the chutes onto flat platforms called sollars, from which it was shoveled into the cars.

The local fruit trees are bursting into bloom this week with the warm spring weather, the peach blossoms being especially beautiful.

The Nevada City Lunch Room has been taken over by Don B. Wheelock.

Fire alarm box No. 24 has been moved to a new location in front of the Harris drug store from its former place near the Lee Leiter store. Box 32 is now at the corner of Main and Union Alley.

C. K. Townsend was over from Gold Run for the week-end.

Major Frank Chapman is home after a voyage from New York thru the Panama Canal to Honolulu and back to San Francisco on the transport Kenowis. He met Mr. and Mrs. Gove Celio, who are spending a two month's vacation there.

Mrs. Richard Phelan spent several days in Oakland returniug home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawke of Gold Flat have two children suffering with pneumonia.

Jack Edminster of Willow Valley left Saturday for his mining claims on Mt. Oro where he expects to spend a few months.

Another strike of high grade ore of yet undetermined proportions is reported the past few days from a local property. Pending further developments, The Nugget is not privileged to print details for some time yet until the strike has been more thoroughly prospected.

It has been The Nugget's privilege the past year to exclusively record some of the largest strikes uncovered in Nevada and Sierra counties in many years and with the vast interest being taken in mining in this great gold belt, this paper will lend its best efforts in behalf of the industry.

WESTERN MERGER NEARLY READY STEADY PRODUCTION SAYS SUPERINTENDENT SKEWES

Things are rapidly shaping at the Western Merger property north of town to go onto a production basis in two to three weeks, according to Superintendent Harry B. Skewes.

Raises are being started for stopes between the 200 and 300 and the 400 and 300 levels, all of which is virgin ground and well mineralized. The old workings did not extend deeper than the 200 and there is a large tonnage of high grade milling ore blocked out which will assure long and steady operation of the five stamp mill.

The concentrators have been set up the past week and the concrete floors are being poured.

President A .A. Codd returned to Reno yesterday after a stay at the property and expressed himself as highly pleased with the progress being made.

MANY NEW SPECIMENS ADDED TO COLLECTION

Many new specimens are being added regularly to the mineral collection in The Nugget windows and the mining operators are taking a great deal of interest in having a collection on display as will properly advertise our matchless precious metal resources. More specimens as well as photographs and maps will be gladly welcomed.

Information regarding any property in Nevada and Sierra counties will be gladly furnished on request to any inquirer on request, either by mail or in person.

Messrs. Brandon and White have been in the southern part of the state the past week interesting mining men and capital in the new find. The property belongs to the Nick Mullins group of claims.

MRS. GOVE CELIO HEARD OVER HONOLULU RADIO

The following clipping from the Honolulu Advertiser of March 4th tells of one of Nevada City's well known singers:

"Another mainland radio artist in the person of Mrs. Katherin Ruef Celio, wife of Gove C. Celio, retired mechant of Nevada City, and California, will be heard at KGU. Mr. and Mrs. Celio are on an extended tour which will eventually take them to the Orient.

"Charms of Honolulu are causing them to remain in Honolulu for a couple of months at the Moana Hotel.

"Mrs. Celio is an accomplished singer (mezzo soprano) who has frequently sung at Don Lee's KFRC and at KGW."

The details of arranging for Mrs. Celio's appearance on the KGU program were by L. R. Barringer

BENNETTS AND HOLMES AGAIN HEAD CHAMBER

R. J. Bennetts as president and A. M. Holmes as secretary will again head the activities of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce as the result of the election held last week. The past year has seen the membership brought up to a total of 96 which is a remarkable showing.

Among the main items of business brough up at the meeting will be investigation of the cost o ferection of a welcome arch over Pine street which will blaze forth the name of Nevada City in lights to the tourist. Ernie Schreiber and R. R. Goyne were delegated as a committee to look into the matter.

Some disucssion was had regarding the continuance of the muncipal auto park and it was the concensus of opinion that it was a losing proposition for the Chamber to underwrite.

The date of the annual dance was set for Saturday, May 5th and it will be an old fashioned dance as was the one last year which proved so popular.

SUMMIT SNOW PACK IS ONE OF THE LIGHTEST

According to R. N. Taylor of Sacramento, government weather forecaster, the present year is going to be a real dry one in the amount of winter snowfall which is far below normal. The snow pack is reported as but 45 inches at the Summit at this time and going down fast. According to Taylor, there is practically no negligible hope of getting a normal amount of snow on the mountains before the wet season. Only twice before in 15 years has the snow pack been lighter, 1924 and 1926 being the years.

With Lake Bowman at a low level water deliveries to Lake Spaulding are facing a considerable deficit.

POLITICS HEAT UP ELECTION DATE DRAWS NEAR

With the municipal election only three weeks away, politics mhich have been somnolescent for about two years past have been springing into full bloom the past few days and the question of who will be candidates is the favorite topic of conversation along the streets. There wont be any of the trustee jobs go begging this year as there are already five reputed candidates for the three places to be vacated.

Wade J. Armstrong, Benj Hall, Louis W. Kopp, James Penrose and A. H. Haddy are already reported ready for the fray which means that there will be some little attention paid this year as to who is selected. No platforms have been announced by any of the candidates but it is presumed that one of the major issues will be the disposition of the swimming pool tangle. There has been a movement to get the matter on the ballot and have the money put to other uses but it has not crystallized into something definite yet.

Tomorrow noon at 12 o'clock is the closing time for filing nominating papers to have the names printed on the ballot. After that any candidate will have to work the writein method.

MANY SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE ADDED TO THE LIST

Many new subscriptions are being added regularly to The Nugget mailing list as the paper becomes wider known over the state. This is of course gratifying to the publishers. The Nugget now goes into every portion of its natural territory with a well balanced circulation which is of particular interest to advertisers. Building up such a large list from the ground up in sixteen months has been described by many publishers as nothing short of marvelous.

TRUCKING COMPANY AMENDS ITS FRANCHISE APPLICATION

The hearing was commenced at Auburn on Tuesday and a great deal of testimony was taken.

LIGHTED STREET WINDOWS SHOULD BE MAINTAINED

With the coming of the traveling season, the merchants of Nevada City would do well to keep their window lights turned on for several hours of the evening to help light up the business section and give the town a wide-awake appearance. Tourists judge a town a great deal by its outward appearance. A succession of well illuminated windows will make quite a showing.

W. E. Wright appears as attorney for the plaintiffs in the action while E. H. Armstrong is the local attorney for the defendants.

NEW WOMANS CLUB IS BEING ORGANIZED HERE

A new womans' club is being formed at the present time in Nevada City. A preliminary meeting was held Thursday evening in the Chamber of Commerce quarters and Mrs. Charles E. Parsons was selected as temporary chairman and Mrs. A. A. Willoughby, temporary secretary.

A second meeting is to be held at the same place on Thursday night to perfect the organization. Some such club is needed to coordinate and direct the activities of such splendid women as are in this community. Proper objectives and earnest unselfish effort will accomplish much. There is no such organization here at the present time, the Nevada County Extension Club having ceased to function.

A movement was started last year to form an auxiliary of the Chamber of Commerce but it apparently died aborning.

CITY TRUSTEES IN SNAPPY MEET THIS MONTH

One of the snappiest meetings of the city trustees held in many moons was last Thursday night. The customary verbal circumlocution seemed to be almost missing with the result that there was snap and precision, and the business was transacted by an early hour.

PETITION CHECKED UP

A numerously signed petition to have the proposition of putting the trustees on a paying basis placed on the ballot at the coming election, was put up to city attorney Nilon for his decision. Trustee Bennetts stated that he was opposed to pay for the trustees, that they should be willing to give their services to the city at all times as it had been for many years past. There was no discussion of the matter as it was a proposition for the voters to decide. The trustees had nothing to do with the sponsoring of the petition or circulating it.

BREAKAGE TO BE PAID FOR

Those people who have been destroying city property such as breaking off of fire hydrants and running into the Pine street bridge are being rendered bills for the damage done and this is the plan to be followed regularly hereafter. The trustees are of the opinion that the city treasury should not be made the carry-all for the breakage done. There are two hydrant breaks to be paid for and two bridge collisions.

NEW STREET LIGHTS

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company has submitted a proposition to install bracket street lights of high candle power between the Methodist church and the Plaza on Broad street and on Pine street, at 200 foot intervals for a brilliantly lighted effect on the two main thoroughfares at a very modest stipend and the matter is being investigated as the trustees look favorably upon it.

LICENSES GET ATTENTION

Some of the bills which have been presented for payment have been quite incomplete in detail and hereafter all bills for labor and hauling will have to be quite specific or they will not be paid, according to dictum.

TRUSTEES TO BUY HOSE

The board of fire delegates passed the matter of purchase of hose up to the city trustees and an advertisement is being run in this issue of The Nugget calling for bids for the supplying of hose in the amount of $500. The bids will be opened at the regular April meeting of the board of trustees.

APPOINTEE SENDS THANKS

FROM OUR READERS

Editor The Nugget—

The recent articles in your paper, one by a good citizen out of town and the reply by applicants for a trucking franchise, have been read with great interest. There also appears to be an application on file before the Rail Road Commission from the Southern Pacific Co. for a passenger transportation permit which is also interesting.

Having been the target for much adverse criticism some years ago in regard to rail road matters may I at this time make a few suggestions that might be constructive.

As far as the Southern Pacific is concerned have heard it said they havet heir road bed and squipment so why make an attempt to compete in this manner with the auto stages. It seems logical to assume this great company could take care of its local traffic without resorting to the change mentioned. We are given to understand local passenger traffic generally is not attractive or profitable for the larger companies. On the other and the very existence of our smaller roads depends on such business.

Then to the Narrow Gauge management. Why not work out your own problems independent of the large corporation. Motor transportation is here, and here to stay at least for a time, so instead of trying to throttle competition by legislation what is to prevent the Narrow Gauge Co. from endeavoring to hold its present business and building up a future on a firm foundation.

Since its inception our local road has been at the mercy of the Southern Pacific Co. and the real sufferers have been the shipper and traveling public. Why do we now patronize the Sacramento stage? In my own case, a Narrow Gauge stockholder, good friend of the management and a stage patron. The fare is. or was more and the time consumed enroute by train longer. Then one is not always certain of moving out of Colfax promptly. Within the year one of my friends came to Berkeley by train. The trip required two days. The first day was spent riding to Colfax, sending a few telegrams and then returning to Nevada City. Yes they say it was an exception to the rule, a wreck and an unfortunate delay. How many of your readers can recall waiting many weary hours at Colfax for S. P. trains when we had no automobiles. Now things are different. While it is possible for a stage to be delayed, records may show that passengers moving between Sacramento and Nevada City are seldom delayed or miss a connection. Recently have traveled much about the state in stages and have never experienced such delays as was common at Colfax.

May I ask if it is impossible and impractable for the Narrow Gauge to apply for a franchise independent of the Southern Pacific Co. which will permit the operation of motor trucks and stages Colfax to Sacramento in connection with their trains. Would it be possible to place their passenger fares on a competing basis with the stages and reduce freight rates to the figures now proposed by the present applicants.

If it were possible to work out such a plan the Narrow Gauge people certainly could assure us prompt passenger connections at Colfax making matters fairly equal thus eliminating reasons for loyal citizens to patronize the competing stage.

Now as for freight shipments would not be practical for trucks with movable bodies to be used. Such equipment can be seen in use by drayage firms in many places. This equipment should be able to handle local freight enroute Sacramento to Calfax as well as connecing with trains of the Narrow Gauge. Such a plan might eliminate delay and transfer at Colfax, provide overnight service for lighter merchandise and curb present independent truck competition now annoying the management of our home road.

Heavy commodities would naturally take care of themselves thru the regular channels as in the past.

FRENCH CORRAL SCRIBE DECANTS ON WEATHER

FRENCH CORRAL, Mar. 17, (Special to The Nugget)— French Corral seems to have suddenly dropped into summertime, for the past two days. With the temperature at 68° in the shade we find winter clothing rather uncomfortable. However all nature grows more beautiful every day and is a feast to the eyes, yes, and the soul too. We surely must instill goodness to be surrounded with so much of the beautiful.

A meeting of the Birchville and French Corral Water Users was held at the school house Saturday evening, March 10th. Along with other business transactions it was planned to celebrate St. Patrick's Day with good work. A crew of men have volunteered to repair the bridge in Birchville by putting in the pipe that has been furnished for that purpose.

I. W. Musfield of San Juan had business in French Corral Saturday evening.

An auto party from Sacramento fomer residents of French Corral were Sunday visitors:— Mrs. A. McPherson, and sons, Willis and Elton, and daughter, Elizabeth, and sister, Mrs. Sherwood, and Pete Pagnolia formed the party.

Ernest Collins of Sweetland was a Sunday visitor.

Sam McCullough had business in French Corral Sunday.

Macey P. Williams and wife of Seattle, who came here on an extended visit in December, have just returned from Arizona and dropped in for a few day's visit before returning to their home in Seattle. Mr. Williams was born and raised in French Corral.

Mr. Denick of North San Juan had business here Monday. He was accompanied by Raymond Fogarty of San Juan.

"Buzz" Calanan drove his cattle through here enroute to Ray ranch.

W. C. Clerkin visitoed Grass Valley and Nevada City this week.

Mrs. E. Schwartz and Mrs. K.S ullivan, members of Columbia Parlor. No. 70, went to Grass Valley Tuesday to attend the funeral of Miss Veronica Huss, a member of Manzanita Parlor, No. 29. Nearly thirty-six years ago Miss Huss, assisted by a team from Manzanita Parlor, instituted Columbia Parlor in North San Juan. Mrs. Allison Watt was District Deputy at the time, but was too ill to come, so deputized Miss Huss to perfom the work. Miss Huss passed away in San Francisco, but her remains were brought to Grass Valley to be laid to rest in the family plot in Greenwood cemetery. The burial service was conducted by Manzanita Parlor.

Mrs. W. E. Moulton and daughter, Louise, and Mrs. J. W. Culver were visitors in Nevada City and Grass Valley Wednesday.

Thos. Meyers and W. E. Moulton had business in Nevada City Thursday.

CATFISH BITING NOW AT BULLARDS BAR LAKE

CAMPTONVILLE. March 17, (Special to The Nugget)— The catfish of Bullards Bar have emerged from their wintry migration to the muddy bottom, and are now at the mercy of the many fishermen who nightly cast their line in the waters of this big lake.

Catfishing has become one of the sports of this section, it being most popular at night, at which time, large parties have a most enjoyable time on the banks of the lake, with bonfire, lunch, and fishing tackle. Aside from the fine sport, the catfish furnishes excellent food, most local people liking it better than trout. Some of the fish are very large, and only a few of them make a very nice meal.

The dam is very well stocked with these hardy fish, and there seems to be no end to catching them. It is not necessary to have a license to fish for these; there is no season on them, and it is lawful to fish for them at night.

The fish in the dam are the Chinese variety, a very pretty catfish, not the bullhead which is common in the state. Several fine large specimens are on display in The Forest in the Meek Mercantile Companies store.

MOSQUITO CREEK ACCIDENT

A serious accident took place on the highway five miles south of here Monday morning, when a Ford car driven by two young men and an elder passenger, upset into Mosquito Creek, near where the Butz- Cunningham road leaves the highway.

The young men had picked up their elderly passenger and the trio was headed for the Yuba Pass .As they were driving past this road intersection they noticed a sign board, and backed up in order to read the sign; they did not look where they were backing, and went right off the road, landing up-side-down in the waters of Mosquito Creek.

An oil tanker was the first car along, and assisted in getting the travelers from under the car, the elder man, by the name of George Reavy, being the most seriously injured. He was brought on to town, and given first aid treatment at the Hotel Francis. He was considerably injured in the left shoulder, badly scratched and bruised, with possible internal injuries. Later in the day he was rushed to the Yuba county hospital at Marysville, for medical attention and other necessary aid.

The two younger men were considerably bruised. Thei rnames could not be learned, and both told different stories as to their destination and business, and shortly after the accident they deserted the car, starting for the Yuba Pass on foot.

The Motor Vehicle Department was notified, and reported that the car by that license number belonged to a party at San Pedro. Traffic Officer Capt. Joe Blake of Nevada county, starter investigating the case and in communication with Sheriff Bynon of Sierra county, the youths will be held awaiting further investigations.

The older man had no connection with the two younger ones; he was just a pick-up passenger by them. His former home has been in the state of Oregon, he coming to this state some time ago, and coming into this section, in search of employment. He is a man of several years of age, and this mishap may prove hard on him. He did not have the name or address of any relatives and being penniless, it fell to the local people to render first aid, and do as best they could for him.

SCHOOL STARTS UP

School bells sounded once again Monday morning, the new term for the Camptonville Union schools, getting under way. Schools started with a fair attendance; other students yet to enter, as soon as the weather cleared a little, and some recovered from minor sicknesses.

BASKET BALL TEAMS GIVEN FINE BANQUET

The Nevada City High School basket ball teams were guests of honor at a sumptuous chicken-raviola dinner last Thursday evening through the hospitality of the Nevada City Lodge of Elks.

There were some thirty of the boys present, with their instructors, as well as over eighty Elks. Toastmaster S. Lee Leiter, after explaining to the guests the reason for the gathering called upon a number of those present for remarks and Mr. Richard Goyne created great merriment by his Cousin Jack interpretation of a well known biblical story.

Judge Nilon spoke at length upon the lives of some of the more successful men of business who have made their mark in the world and who were classmates and graduates of the Nevada City schools. He admonished the boys assembled to make every effort to elevate and maintain the standard of their school.

The dinner is one which will probably long be remembered by the members of the teams and the occasion for it, as explained by Mr. Leiter was the pride which not only the order of Elks, but all townspeople have felt toward the boys for their clean sportsmanship, skillful playing and gentlemanly behavior in their victories over contending teams
